ADP-LSP Comedy To Be Given Tonight

Motorcade Members Take Over Campus

Tonight at 8:00 p. m., students, special guests and motorcade visitors will see the ADP-LSP production of John Fuller's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," directed by Marilyn Lutz and Carolemay Rapp. A comedy in three acts, the play is based on Mark Twain's book of the same name.

The story deals with the adventures of a Yankee from Connecticut who finds himself thrown back into the middle ages. He cannot believe it at first, thinking that he is in an insane asylum. But he is soon convinced that he actually is faced with a death sentence handed down from King Arthur, and his ingenuity comes immediately to the fore. By predicting an eclipse of the sun,

Rabbi Julius Nodel To Appear in Chapel

Rabbi Julius J. Nodel will speak on some phase of Jewish life or religion in Monday's chapel service. He is sponsored by the Jewish Chatauqua Society of New York. The purpose of the lecture is to promote better understanding and appreciation of the Jewish race.

RABBI JULIUS NODEL

Rabbi Nodel attended Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. and received the M. H. L. degree from the Hebrew Union College. He was ordained from the Hebrew Union College and served as Religious and Educational Director of a Cincinnati congregation for two years. As a Naval Chaplain he lectured on "Judaism" at the Naval Training School for chaplains at William and Mary College in Virginia. After being discharged from the Navy he became Assistant Rabbi of The Temple in Cleveland, which is the largest Jewish congregation in America. In 1950 he went to the Temple Beth Israel in Portland.

The NNC Crusader staff expresses its deepest sympathy to ur proofreader. Art Manchester.

diately becomes the idol of the kingdom. His power becomes so great that Merlin, the court magician, plots against him with several others. However, the Yankee builds up a complete twentieth century industry in short order, and keeps the knights of the court completely baffled by his magic. What happens when he is lured away from the kingdom to investigate other domains adds suspense and laughter to the plot.

Peterson Takes Lead Role Taking the lead role of Connecticut Yankee is Phil Peterson, with Guilford Fitz as King Arthur and Barbara Sanford as Queen Guenever. Noreen DeJong is the wicked queen Morgan LeFay, sister of King Arthur, who plots with Merlin, the court magician, played by Roy Puckett. Frank Earlywine plays the role of the court page evening for the general public.

he saves his own skin, and imme- boy, Sue Wentworth is Elaine, the young girl of the court and Geri Leih takes the part of Sandy, the lovely young maiden in distress. Knights of the Court are Harold Weber as Launcelot and Don Fowler as Sir Sagramor. Jennie Ray is Hank's harassed mother and Velma Poole his younger sister, Marion.

Committees Named

Heading the costume committee for the production is Wendell Poole; Muriel Ivester is in charge of programs; Lois Tracy and Norman Stueckle serve as head ushers; Carol Newgard is stage manager; and Harland Lutz heads the committee for lighting and sound effects.

Only those persons holding special motorcade tickets, student body or reserved seat tickets will be admitted to tonight's performance. Seats will be available tomorrow

College Church Leads Bethany in Contest

With 820 (27.3%) in College Church Sunday School, and 216 (32.5%) in the College department, NNC forged ahead of Bethany Sunday school, another Sunday. Bethany reported 1,208, or 18% gain and 248 in their college department, or 15.9%. This gives NNC a 45.3% lead over Bethany and the College a 114.2% lead over their college department.

Special Sundays coming up during the balance of the contest are: Cradle Roll Sunday, March 22, at which time all babies and their mothers will be recognized. Junior-Cherub Choir, April 5, Easter Sunday; Crusader Choir Break-the-Record Sunday April 12; and "Over the Top With Stowe" the last Sunday of the contest, April 26.

Rod Newman, Nancy Shimabakura. Herb Geller and Verdene Cochran are the four leaders in the field for the first prize of a $75.00 scholarship to the student who brings in the most absentees and new visitors.

Rev. E. W. Martin of Detroit Is Scheduled To Bring Annual Miller Lectures Apr. 13-17

Rev. E. W. Martin, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Detroit, Mich., will bring the tenth annual Miller Lectures this year. The lectures will begin April 13 and conclude April 17, during the regular 9:45 chapel period. Prior to pastoring Detroit First Church, Rev. Martin pastored at East Liverpool, Ohio. He is considered one of the outstanding leaders in the Church of the Nazarene. At the present time Rev. Martin is conducting the Crusade for Souls campaign at Bethany First Church.

The Miller Lectures were established in 1943 by Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Miller, in order to give practical aid and advice to young people going out to special Christian service. Following the death of Dr. Miller, College Church asked for the privilege of perpetuating these lectures under Dr. Miller's name.

Previous speakers have included Dr. Paul Rees, Dr. E. O. Chalfant, Dr. Mendell Taylor, Miss Bertha Munro and Dr. Paul Petticord.

ASB PROGRAMS

According to Jim Lais, vice president of ASB, Friday evening entertainment on March 27 and April 10 will be in charge of the Associated Student Body.

A feature length film, either Moby Dick or Last of Mohicans will be shown on March 27. The Boise Junior College Choir will present the program April 10.

G. Pfenninger Cops Trophy At Contest

George Pfenninger won the trophy for the outstanding speaker at the speech contests held at Idaho State College last week.

Roger Marks, debate manager, stated this was the first time NNC has received the award since 1944, when Ken Sulston took the honors.

Included in the tournament were the two outstanding debators at Linfield College, who won over candidates from 53 institutions.

Roger Marks took fourth place in impromptu speaking. Other students attending from NNC were Joe Stockett, Bob Harmon, Len Back, Dave Cook and Bernard Nass.

STUDENT ELECTIONS

Within the next few weeks students of Northwest Nazarene College will nominate and elect student leaders for next year.

With this issue of the NNC CRUSADER we are bringing to you the opinions and views of various campus personnel, hoping that beginning now YOU as an individual will begin thinking about those whom you wish to have serve in the various positions. We urge you to weigh carefully the significant factors involved in the light of the duties and responsibilities of the position.

As a student newspaper we are not so concerned about HOW you vote as we are THAT you vote. We say this because our voting statistics this year (as well as previous years), show a very definite lack of interest in student body elections.

We are concerned for two reasons. First, because less than 50% of the students are determining the various issues and, secondly, because these same voting patterns will probably carry over into our professional life after we leave NNC.

We urge you to consider the prerequisites for real leaders on a holiness college campus and then let's have an UNUSUAL vote this year because we're interested enough to take time to express our decisions.

What College High Students Expect Of An Associated Student Body Officer

Our roving reporter visited College High this week and asked the question, "What Do You Expect of An ASB Officer?" (speaking in the light of the forthcoming elections). With everyone a real Christian which was the first qualification, many duplicated answers, but here are a few of the varied ones we received:

Raymond Ax feels he must be tops in leadership ability and a good parliamentarian while Earl Tromburg follows a close second with sincerity and school loyalty as prerequisites. A wide range of interests, all the way from athletics to musical concerts is one of Harold Wesche's expectations. Clarence Kinzler and Buddy Wheeler seem to feel that an ASB officer should not be prejudiced, should respect the opinions of others and should attend at least one high school game during the year.

Ray Moore is going to require some executive ability, along with unbiased opinions. Previous experience stands out in many of the CHS minds . . . especially Roger Hitchcock and Phil Younger. Betty Brown seems to feel that consideration and attitudes manifested in the past, plus initiative will have some bearing on her vote.

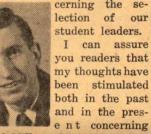

Along with most of College High students comes this opinion of Nadine Sewards ... that of an interest in College High activities . . . that will carry weight with her. Don Tucker says his candidate will have to be a representative of NNC's standards and ideals.

Bud Porter and Ed Manley go along with most of these other students but a person with a good speaking ability is going to be pretty high on their list.

Deloris Smith and Thelma think he ability to organize should be considered, while Donna Heppel is going to look at his scholastic record quite thoroughly. After all, who wants a dumb bell? Jim Stiverson feels that a genuine school spirit and a respect of others will motivate his loyalty. L. A. Bowers and Shirley Scott said they thought that an ASB officer should be active in school functions, plus the idea of friendliness. Ronnie Kratzer's vote will go to the candidate with some good reasoning qualities and to a fellow who knows how to dress properly.

Student body elections are scheduled for the near future. I have been asked to contribute some "thought-stimulating" remarks con-

Howard Miller this fairly broad subject. I hope that I can encourage those of you who are "capable" to think along these important lines.

Now is the proper time to learn to make opportune and intelligent decisions. If you are uninterested, remember that someone has said that if a person has no "thirst for knowledge," it could be that the thirst is being quenched by "water on the brain." Don't give up though -a lot of water can be evaporated through motion (unless it is contained in a vacuum).

You are already THINKINGthat this article is beginning to be more thought "provoking" than stimulating. I would just like to sow a few seeds of thought into the fertile territory I have mentioned and I'm sure that any of us have enough moisture to sprout them and I hope to nurture them into mature trees of intelligent action.

First, elections should not be mere popularity contests. An inteligent person does not respect and follow a person merely because it's popular.

This brings us to a second thought. Do not help to elect a person whose judgment you do not respect, admire or believe in and whose motives you cannot trust. When you cast your ballot for a person, you pledge your support! But, if such a person is elected by a majority of the voters the intelligent course is to carefully re-consider your opinion. An intelligent, well-integrated mind is always open to added information and new truth. The mere fact of his election warrants your fair support in the carrying out of his duties. Other articles of more seasoned quality both as to content and author are printed in this issue. You will of course want to spend considerable time on this article (several seconds), but you are encouraged to use all available "thoughtprovocation" to help you perform your electing duties intelligently.

HOW MUCH STUDENT GOVERNMENT DO YOU WANT?

By Dr. John E. Riley

One of the absolute essentials of a democracy is a high level of intelligence and responsibility. Dictatorships can get along with dummies in the body politic; in fact, the dictator may be a dummy, for a while. An educational institution in a free democracy has, as one of its passionate aims, the development of a free, responsible, intelligent citizenry. The administration of Northwest Nazarene College here and now announces its desire that her students have as high a degree of "free self-government" as they, through their constituted organizations and individual choices, will intelligently and responsibly exercise.

The Administrative Council and the Student Council together are discussing approaches and machinery which may presage the beginning of a higher and nobler day in administration - student relationships. The time to begin is now. It is my sincere wish that you students, all of you, will talk con-structively of student government, of candidates for office, and will then vote for the finest leaders you can select. Let us all make Northwest Nazarene College a place of which to be proud, a society of free, intelligent, responsible per-| sons, the pattern of an ideal society.

Shall I speak plainly to you? Can you take it? I think you can. I have cooperated with Mrs. Riley in the first stages of raising our three girls. As president of this college I do not want to do any more baby-spanking. I would like to be an older brother or adviser ready to help you - tomorrow's leaders. Shall we work together?

DR. THELMA B. CULVER FOLLOWSHIP-LEADERSHIP

By Dr. Thelma B. Culver

The role of leaders in society is a matter of perennial discussion. There are scarcely any human associations in which leaders do not sooner or later appear. There are usually some persons who stand out and direct, while others listen, submit and follow.

The significant point in a democratic society is that the second group has the privilege and responsibility of naming the first group. Foolish indeed are those who neglect to choose their leaders.

What Makes a Good Follower?

1. A good follower recognizes his own rights and responsibilities. 2. A good follower recognizes the rights of others.

3. A good follower does his part.

A good follower is loyal. 4. 5. A good follower demands results.

What Makes a Good Leader? 1. A good leader recognizes his office as a responsibility given him by the group.

2. A good leader makes use of ooperation.

A good leader delegates au-3. thority.

4. A good leader assumes responsibility.

5. A good leader produces results.

As the students of Northwest Nazarene College choose their student leaders for the coming year 1 believe they will get returns according to their investment.

Half-hearted, careless choices will result in half-hearted, careless leadership. Whole-hearted, careful choices will result in whole-hearted, careful leadership. I wish you well in your plans for the next school year!

CHARLES E. TAYLOR STUDENT LEADERSHIP By Charles E. Taylor

The Esprit De Corps of the campus next school year depends to no small degree upon the choices made in the ASB elections this spring. Therefore, this significant phase of student activity should be approached with deliberate caution, pronounced sobriety and calculable anticipation.

In selecting the candidates for nomination, the student body should, of course, be governed by the traditional criteria, such as academic rank, Christian character and general leadership ability. But in addition to these, there should be in evidence the fact that these potential ASB leaders will be able to comprehend and reflect the opinion of the majority of the student body. The candidates, too, should be able to effectively grasp and thoroughly understand the pertinent problems of each campus group and possess that quality of leadership which would coordinate and integrate all these elements into one united body. Also, the candidates should manifest an intense interest in the amplification of positive student government in numerous campus situations. There must be a decisive gravitation in the direction of widespread student government on our campus if we are to keep abreast of modern trends.

Regarding the matter of voting, let it be hoped that the whole voice of the entire student body will be heard clear and strong as it expresses its sovereign wish on each election day. Let it also be hoped that no campaign will resolve itself into a mere popularity contest, but rather may each ballot be prefaced by careful objective consideration of the "person and the issues."

Track Team Holds Intra-Squad Meet

Coach LaMont Lee sent his track team through their first trials of the year in an intra-squad meet last Friday in preparation for the April 1 invitational meet at Bulldog Bowl.

A big share of last year's outstanding team is missing from the ranks, but several marks were made which were better than those at this same date last year. Among them are two times in the 220-yard dash, 23.1 by Jim Gilson and a 23.6 by Wayne Aller, both of whom are better than the test run of 23.9 by Jim Frazier one year ago.

In the ¾-mile, Paul Ralphs and Paul Fouch both did better in their first try on the NNC oval than their great distance runner for two years, Bob Burkhart. Ralph came in at 3:49.5 followed by Fouch with a 3:58. Last year at this time, Burkhart tied with Roger Marks in the pre-season meet with a 4:02 time. Winton Miller did far better in the discus throw than the top man of last year, Art Jacobs' 108'51/2", as he tossed the platter just two inches short of 125 feet.

Arlan Anderson is expected to lead the field in the 100-vard dash but was absent from the meet and Gilson came in first with a time of 11.2 with Floyd Johnson, Aller, Beeson, Stickney, Miller and Stockett following in order. Anderson will try to better his high mark for the first try by aiming over his 10.8 showing in March of 1952.

Behind Gilson and Aller in the 220 was Stickney with 24.4, Johnson, and Stockett. In the 660-yard run, Koerner took the lead running a 1:34.6 with Beeson, Weber and Stickney on his heels. Maxey and Sheets also ran the 3/4 mile.

The remaining weight events and the longer distance running were eliminated from the first meet.

Olys, ADPs Lead In Volleyball Race

The LSP boys, by tripping the previously undefeated Olys, 15-9, in game number three last Monday, handed the league leaders their first volleyball loss of the season. This dropped them into a first place tie with the ADPs, who whipped the winless SLAs in the preliminary two straight.

The two leaders are expected to remain in the tie until they meet for the second time in the last game. Harold Weber has led the LSPs to their two wins and will prove a threat to the ADP chances of overtaking the Olys who have completed their series with the spoilers.

First Semester Volleyball Champs Again Take Lead

First semester's champs are in the lead again in girls' volleyball. A 43 to 19 victory over the Olys placed the ADP team in first place thus far with three wins and no losses to their credit. The Olys upset the LSPs 29 to 24 in the first game while the ADPs beat the SLA team 37 to 17.

The SLAs came back into second place with a 31 to 24 victory over the Olys and the ADP team chalked up their second victory, 40 to 30, over the LSPs. In the third set of games in which the ADPs defeated the Olys the SLA team also beat the LSPs 31 to 22, placing the LSP team in fourth place.

THE NNC CRUSADER

Finkbeiner Shapes Up Tennis Squad

The varsity tennis squad, coached by Myron Finkbeiner, is now in the process of intra-squad matches to determine their positions on the team ladder which is now headed by Lauren Sanders. Thirteen men are on the team with four returnees from last year's squad.

Finkbeiner is seeded right behind Sanders with Merv Gale resting in the number 3 position. The last of the four returning stars, George Mowry, was in the number four slot before being edged out by Roy Croskrey in a recent match.

Other members of the team in the order of their position on the squad are Poole, Urwin, Weigelt, Doane and Arnold. Following the top ten are Peterson, Hoyle and Fisher.

Any team member can work their way to the top or better their position by challenging the man ahead of them on the ladder and winning in their match. Thus far, Croskrey is the only one to move up by his win over Mowry.

Finkbeiner will try to schedule eight matches for the spring season, four each with the College of Idaho and Boise Junior College.

Every member of the team will play in these matches providing the opposition can furnish the same number to pit against them. If not, Finkbeiner will match his men according to their seniority at the time of the meeting.

Probably working together in doubles will be Croskrey and Finkbeiner and Sanders will team with Gale.

Donation Is Made To Science Department

Dr. Alvin Aller, head of the Biological Science department, announced this week that Mr. William McClean has donated to the department a box of mineralogical specimens.

Mr. McClean is a geological engineer and a member of the Church of the Nazarene at Butte, Mont.

MARSHALL SCIENCE

Mr. Bill Belknap of the College of Idaho recently showed the Marshall Science Society colored slides of birds which he photographed at Malheur Bird Refuge in Oregon during a summer field trip.

Each summer science club members of the College of Idaho may take a seven week field trip to various places of interest, for which they receive college credit. This summer they will go to Mexico to visit Indian and volcanic ruins.

Approximately 30 members and guests were present for the meeting. The Marshall Science Society is planning to present a program for the College of Idaho society in the near future.

BUSINESS CLUB

Mrs. Nita Stevenson, women's placement representative for the Idaho Employment Security Agency, spoke to the Business Club on Monday night. She discussed the requirements for state and federal positions.

Herb Meyers, vice president, was in charge of the program.

Plans are being made for the annual Business Club banquet honoring graduating business majors. The banquet will be held in April.

ODE TO UPPERCLASSMEN You can tell a freshman By his silly, eager look. You can tell a sophomore Because he carries one more book. You can tell a junior By his dashing way and such. You can tell a senior-But, boy, you can't tell him much! -Biola Chimes.

Motorcade Members To Be Honored At Tonight's Production

Members of the Oregon-Pacific notorcade arrived yesterday afternoon and are special guests of NNC today.

They were met just outside Nampa by a parade caravan and last night attended a basketball game in the College gym.

An Oregon-Pacific dinner is planned for the guests and students from that district tonight at 6 p.m. in Morrison Dining Hall.

After dinner members of the group will be given the opportunity of attending the ADP-LSP society play. Campus tours have been conducted throughout the day by members of Circle K.

Caravan total last year reached 189, which included 139 high school students and 22 pastors.
