Quartet Elected To Speech Club

Richard Benner, Pi Kappa Delta president, has announced the names of four NNC students who have been elected to membership in the honorary speech organization.

Benner said that formal initiation of new candidates is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Jan. 26.

To be initiated are Jack Wright, Jr., senior ministerial student from Shreveport, La.; Ralph Neil, junior ministerial student from Baton Rouge, La.; Joyce Oldenkamp, junior education major from Tillamook, Ore., and Dick Etulain, senior education student from Moses Lake, Wn.

Benner said that the quartet will be initiated at a banquet at the Homestead. In addition to formal initiation ceremonies, the evening's program will include presentation of an honorary membership to the Rev. L. Wesley Johnson, NNC business manager.

After the banquet members of the club will be entertained at the home of Miss Helen Wilson, associate sponsor.

NNC's chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was installed on the campus last year. Dr. Lester McCrery of the College of Idaho was installing officer.

Charter members of Pi Kappa Delta include Benner, Larry Clark, Clayton Bonar, Irene Ammons, Al Lewis, Ron McGilvra and Harmon Schmelzenbach, first president of the group.

On the planning committee for this year's initiation are Benner, Clark, Miss Oldenkamp and Miss Wilson.

Tea, Fashion Show Held in Elmore Hall

The Home Economics Department's "Silver Tea and Style Show" was held Tuesday afternoon in Elmore Hall. The purpose of this tea and fashion show was to heighten interest in home economics and to show the work of girls in the clothing construction classes.

Displays of free distributive material and home economics posters were set up by the home economics education methods classes. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth over a pink background. Silver tea service was used and sandwiches, cookies and tea were served. Serving the guests were Myrna Dean and Mrs. Gretta Rich. Refreshments were prepared by the foods classes which are taught by Miss Tombaugh.

Miss Stewart, who teaches the clothing classes, was moderator for the style show. The girls modeled their own clothes which ranged from sports wear to suits and dresses. Models were Frances Hardin, Beverly Bloom, Rosalie Rose, Rosalie Shepard, Verla Mae Ruby, Claudia Curtis, Mary Lou Bohl, Carol Arnold, Charlene Wentworth, Joan Haines, Marilyn Rose, Roberta Miller, Bonnie Nealeigh, Marilyn Kelley, Sharon Johnson and Hiroko Okito. The fashion show was given twice between the hours of three and five.

Among the students and faculty who attended were several out of town guests as well as the community people. Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Keck, master teachers for student home economics teachers at Nampa High, were also there.

This fashion show was the second home economics activity this semester. The first was a faculty luncheon during United Nations week, featuring foods of other lands. Mrs. Howe plans another fashion show next semester and some home economics-related activity each month.

ATHLETIC-LITERARY SOCIETIES ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Athletic-Literary Societies have elected new officers for the coming semester. These officers will lead their societies in the presentation of the spring plays, music and speech contests, and the intramural sports activities. The Alpha Delta Phi Society elected Jerry Dirske as their president with Terry McNaught assisting him as vice president. Serving as secretary is Glenys Haven; treasurer, Janis VanderStoep; program chairman, Karen Van Horne; music director, Clayton Bonar; athletic directors, Evelyn Baptiste and Jerry Van Order.

The Spartan Society, currently leading in cumulative points toward winning the Faculty Loving Cup for this semester, elected Neil McKay as their president. Vice president, Gordon Miller; secretary-treasurer, Shirley Pautzke; program chairman, Lois Young; athletic directors, Ronald Mills, Marvin Bressler, Donna Rankin, and Marilyn Slemmer; music director, Jerry Abrams; speech director, Larry Clark; yell leaders, Bonnie Quick, Carman Gilmore, and Henry Savage.

The Lambda Sigma Phi Society elected Art Zellmer as president. Vice president, Swede Lisk; secretary-treasurer, Naomi Crawford; program chairman, Jan Chenoweth; athletic directors, Russ Aman and Doryce Mulder; yell leaders, Ralph Neil, Janice Wilson, Colleen Coulter, and Bruce Cronrath.

Leading the rostrum of officers for the Sigma Lambda Alpha Society is Ralph Swenson serving as president. Vice president, Roy Hall; secretary, Ann Huntington; program chairman, Lois Edwards; athletic director, Carolyn Sheppard; music director, Mona Chenoweth; speech director, Phyllis Fletcher.

Serving in the capacity of president for the Olympian Society is John Wright. Vice president, Ron Johnson; secretary-treasurer, Jan Jensen; program chairman, Sandy Longcor; athletic directors, Leroy James and Mary Needham.

There is no report available concerning the Athenian Society elections.

HULL, HARPER ACCEPTED TO MED SCHOOLS

Two NNC seniors—Larry Hull and George Harper—have been notified of their acceptance into medical school.

Hull, science major and senior class president, will attend the University of Washington Medical School in Seattle. He spent last summer on the Washington campus as an honor scholarship student in science.

Larry has participated in many activities while at NNC, serving as Junior class representative and Circle K Club president; also he has lettered in varsity basketball and track.

Harper, vice president of the ASB this year, plans to attend medical school at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

Besides being ASB vice president, George has served as Sophomore class representative, Junior class president, and as an officer of the Spartan Society. He has, also, lettered in tennis and track.

Both Hull and Harper were named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" this year.

FINAL EXAM

"There is not enough virtue in the best of us to make our lives too important in themselves. Our meaning is derived from the things we stand for and the values we symbolize."

These words by Bishop Gerald Kennedy make good reading for semester's end.

Someone else has said, "Character is not made in the time of crisis; it is then only exhibited."

As we come to the end of the first semester we may well ask ourselves what things we stand for—what values we symbolize—knowing that in times of crisis these will be demonstrated.

Do we believe in honesty and fair play? The examination room will reveal this. The improperly obtained library book, also.

Do we really want the beauty of Jesus to be seen in us? The organ rolls, the leader lifts his hands and our voices rise in chorus. Do we mean it?

Our relationships with those in authority will demonstrate the answer. It is hard to sing that song through a snarl of rebellion or to distinguish its strains through the garbage of gossip.

Do we believe in Christian love? The wear and tear of campus life has a way of sanding relationships down to the bare surfaces of reality. Only the ameliorating oil of Christian love can keep the ragged edges from cutting the bonds of fellowship.

Are we serious about this matter of Christian living? No mere totting up of the good in the best of us can determine this.

Roman centurion . . . Good Samaritan . . . rich young ruler . . . you and I . . . each derives his meaning from the things he stands for and the values he demonstrates daily in his life.

THE NEW YEAR

I am the New Year, and I come to you pure and unstained,
 Fresh from the hand of God.

Each day, a precious pearl to you is given

That you must string upon the silver thread of Life.

Once strung can never be unthreaded but stays

An undying record of your faith and skill.

Each golden minute link you then must weld into the chain of hours

That is no stronger than its weakest link.

Into your hands is given all the wealth and power

To make your life just what you will.

I give to you, free and unstained, twelve glorious months

Of soothing rain and sunshine golden;

The days for work and rest, the nights for peaceful slumber.

All that I have I give with love unspoken.

All that I ask—you keep the faith unbroken!

THE GOLDEN SIXTIES, IF . . .

By BOB PARKER

For the last six months almost every business magazine in circulation has run a feature article on the U. S. economy in the next decade. Most of these articles have taken to heart the problem of how to make the 1960's really the Golden Sixties.

General opinion has said that the real core of this problem is the situation called "tight money." This is when interest rates are so high that borrowing is at a low ebb, and in turn spending is also on a low level. This means that fewer homes are being built, wages are at a stand-still, and the general economy is in a state of "careful" anticipation. Needless to say, this is bad for us as individuals as well as for the nation as a whole. How can we secure the best for ourselves and our families when we won't let the principle of supply and demand function properly? The problem is that we all want to support the demand factor without having to give up our "careful" anticipation and submit to the supply function.

As was the request of Mr. Eisenhower during the recession of late 1958, so should our request be for a greater amount of spending. We must see to it that we do our individual parts in helping our national economy be the smooth running machine it can be.

The answer to our problem lies in our motives. If we wish to have momentary security at the loss of a decade or more of golden years, then we will continue in our present state. However, if we will look to the future and realize the potentials that are present in manufacturing, technology, education, personal income, and many more, we will reach deep into that old sock and begin to spend more freely now, for the golden years that certainly will come. If we will but realize what must be done, and do it faithfully, we will find the 1960's the golden years we yearn for.

Lettie Howe Comes From Pasadena; Joins NNC Home Ec Department

Mrs. Lettie Howe came to NNC this year after teaching for ten years at our sister school, Pasadena College in Pasadena, California. Loyal Minnesotans will be interested to know that she originally came from their home state. Mrs. Lowe, who now lives in the Home Management House, graduated from Pasadena College, did some work at Oregon State College, and received her Master's degree at the University of Minnesota. Her teaching field is home economics education, foods and nutrition.

When asked about her favorite spare time amusement, she named etching in metal and glass, although she and her husband like to fish when they can find the time.

Mr. Howe is living in Pasadena and is affiliated with Sears, Roebuck and Company. The Howes spent the Christmas holidays together in Pasadena. Mr. Howe made the trip back to Nampa with his wife and were, as Mrs. Howe put it, "royally entertained by the faculty and administration" before Mr. Howe returned to Pasadena.

The Howes have been asked many times about their separation due to their work. They both feel that they are where the Lord wants them to be and that they each have an important ministry to fulfill. They share a mutual understanding of each other's work and are trusting in the Lord to guide them in their future plans.

Although the Howes have no children of their own, they have, over the past fifteen years, made a home for, and claimed as their own, eleven college students, three of whom are from Japan, Formosa, and Ecuador.

Two of the three previously mentioned students are presently working on their doctoral programs at the Universities of Pennsylvania and Florida, and the third has a fine position with the Atomic Energy Commission, affiliated with the University of California in Los Angeles.

Although the Howes have had as many as three students living in their home in Pasadena at one time, they have only one student now. He is Larry Vaughters, who attended our own College High School and is now attending PC. His father is Rev. William Vaughters, president of San Antonio Nazarene Spanish Bible Institute in San Antonio, Texas.

At Christmas a year ago, the Howes had seven of their eleven children home from all parts of the United States. In making a home for college students, the Howes are carrying on a wonderful Christian service aside from their separate professions.

Mrs. Howe feels that NNC and PC are similar as to their Christian atmosphere. She has a high regard for the academic standards as structured through the administration at NNC. She appreciates the fact that the speed of living around NNC and Nampa is not as accelerated as it is in Pasadena. Having Mrs. Howe on our faculty is truly an asset to our campus and her testimony is a light to all who know her.

LEUPP FEATURED

Nampa's mayor, Thomas A. Leupp, is the subject of an article in this month's issue of Conquest magazine.

Author of the article is Miss Helen Wilson, journalism professor at NNC.

Leupp was graduated from NNC and obtained his master's degree at the University of Oregon. He returned to NNC in 1954 where he served as dean of students until his election as mayor of Nampa.

Currently he is being mentioned in the press as a candidate for Congress.

Model Office Organized by Management Class

During this past semester, six students, supervised by Miss Phyllis Hartley, have worked at organizing a "model office" for the Idaho-Oregon District of the Church of the Nazarene.

Located in the basement at the home of I. F. Younger, District Superintendent, this work has been done to a great extent, in conjunction with Miss Hartley's office management class of seniors—Carol Gray, Arvilla Katsel, Sandy Coombs, and Weldon Wood. Also on the part-time "office staff" were Jodie Winter and Kathie Santo. Jodie and Sandy will serve as part-time secretaries for the remainder of the year.

The functions of this busy office are many. Two examples are preparing and distributing the district paper, The Inter-Mountain News, and preparing many monthly letters and reports for the pastors of the district.

A new typewriter, stencil duplicator, and filing system are speeding up work in the office.

HOLIDAY NOTES

By RAY BURWICK

Many very interesting and enjoyable vacations were spent over the Christmas and New Year's holidays by NNC students. We have endeavored to capture some of the highlights and bring them to the readers.

Probably one of the most traveled students on campus during the holidays was Paul James, sophomore business education major from Oakland, California. Leaving the campus on Wednesday morning, Dec. 16, Paul drove 1,600 miles to join in the family reunion of his parents, Rev. John A. James of Dawson, Minn. After spending eleven days in Minnesota, he took to the road again, traveling through Nampa and on to Oakland to spend the New Year's. The 2,300 mile journey netted three blizzards, varying in intensity from 75 miles driven in three hours to 70 miles of chains from Reno over Donner Pass. Three travelers were pulled out of the ditch by Paul in that 70-mile stretch. 4,600 miles and 2½ weeks later, Paul let his motor cool at the Chapman Hall parking lot.

No doubt the longest telephone call was made by Roy Lynn, freshman secondary education major from Indianapolis, Ind. Roy was unable to trek home for the holidays, spending his vacation working on campus. But compensating for the inconvenience was a 45-minute, 2,200-mile telephone call to his sister. Holiday rates were in effect and being curious, we asked Roy how the expense ran. "Twenty-five dollars," he alleged, but quickly added, "Sis paid."—Nice Christmas present.

An interesting sight-seeing vacation was enjoyed by Eldon Rayburn, sophomore from Twin Falls. His Christmas present was a two-week vacation spent at the home of his brother, Virgil, a Nazarene minister near Los Angeles. Included in his sight-seeing excursions were Marineland—the huge aquarium of water inhabitants; a tour of our sister college, Pasadena Nazarene College, and a visit to the money-pulling Knotts Berry Farm—a California ghost town of some renown.

Not only Christmas bells, but also wedding bells rang in the chapel over the holidays for two well-known NNC musicians. Pianist Dave Mattson and vocalist Gina Snyder made the big step in Flint, Mich. Dave, speaking in his explicit, clipped manner, described the "hectic 2½ weeks" as such: "Cut classes, flew home to Chicago on Monday—drove Gina to Michigan on Tuesday—back to Chicago on Wednesday to meet Roger (Burkhart) my best-man—toured the University of Chicago—on Thursday, had dinner and heard the Chicago Symphony—Friday, wedding rehearsal in Flint—Saturday, HOOKED." He paused for breath after "hooked" and continued, "honeymooned at Niagara Falls for five days—back to Flint for four days and on to Chicago where parties and showers kept us very busy until we flew home on Saturday." That described was no doubt the busiest vacation of anyone connected with the NNC campus. Our congratulations to Gina and Dave.

The hard-luck story of the vacation must go to Rollie Becker, senior religion major from Tillamook, Ore. Traveling in a two-car caravan with Howard Metcalf to Calgary, Rollie's troubles began around midnight just before hitting Spokane. Beginning the bad luck string was the generator—it went out. Like—no lights. So he drove directly behind Metcalf with his lights out and when a car was met or town encountered, he'd switch them on momentarily; to keep from getting stopped. Almost to the Canadian border, Metcalf's car ran over a large boulder, cutting out his clutch, giving him only high gear. To make a long story short, Becker pushed Metcalf when he'd have to stop for signs or gas and Metcalf used the lights for both cars. The teamwork paid off. Both made it safely to Calgary. Not that enough trouble had been encountered, Rollie had to replace a cracked engine block and Metcalf lost a muffler and added a burnt valve to the list. Jokingly, Rollie commented, "to top it off, I became engaged. That was the worst catastrophe."

All joking aside, we are thankful that no deaths on the road were reported for the thousands of miles NNC students traversed.

LSP's Clinch Basketball Title

The LSP men's basketball team won this semester's basketball championship by beating the SLA's in overtime play by a score of 57-54. The SLA's led all the game until the final minutes when the sharp shooters, Jerry Hull and

Perry Winkle, pulled the LSP's into a 2 point lead with 10 seconds to go. The SLA's hurriedly brought the ball into play and with about two seconds left Bob Anderson hit a jump shot from out front to tie the game at 52-52 and move into overtime play. Again Hull hit the bucket twice and added a free throw to make the score 57-52 for

OBERG SCORES 17 AND 37 AS CRUSADERS SPLIT PAIR

In the first game of a double header NNC squeezed by the Seattle Pacific Falcons by a score of 82-80. Peppley, Wood and Oberg led the Crusaders in points with 19, 18, and 17 respectively. The Crusaders started off hot, leading at half-time by a score of 54-41. The game was not close as the final score would indicate, as the Crusaders led by 8 to 12 points throughout the contest. In the second half the Falcons tightened up and slowly the Crusader lead was shortened. The Crusaders were held scoreless the last three minutes of the game but managed to keep the Falcons from destroying their total lead. Both teams grabbed 58 rebounds but NNC out-shot the Falcons percentage wise 42 to 35 per cent.

In the second game things were quite reversed as SPC got hot and just couldn't miss that iron ring. Although the Crusaders were never behind by more than 10 points they just couldn't head the Falcons off. Everyone was surprised and pleased as big Gene Oberg began clearing the boards for the Crusader team. In the hottest streak of his college career Gene made that cotton net swish time after time until it seemed that scoring records would fall. NNC came within 3 points of the Falcons many times and even with the rebounding and shooting of Big "O" they couldn't quite take the lead. The final score was SPC 73, NNC 70. This season's record now stands at 8 wins and 8 losses.

Scores of games played are:

1. NNC 56, Eastern Montana 49
2. NNC 76, Eastern Montana 72

HOLIDAY BASKETBALL TOURNEY HELD FIRST DAYS OF NEW YEAR

Boise Valley's annual holiday tournament was held in Caldwell in Kirkpatrick Gymnasium at the College of Idaho on January 1st and 2nd. The participating teams were Eastern Washington College of Education, Cheney; Whitworth College, Spokane; and the two valley teams, C of I, and NNC.

In the first game on Friday, NNC took the team from Cheney with a score of 71-58. Although the game was somewhat ragged at times, there were enough gems turned in by both squads to keep up the interest of the crowd.

Top scorer was John Nugent of EWCE who scored 21 points. Top NNC man was Weldon Wood with 17 points. He was followed closely by Bob Peppley with 14.

The host team, C of I, won the second game from Whitworth. Julian Laca, who for the past two years has been a starter for the C of I Coyotes, came in as a reserve. Completely demoralizing the other team, he netted 18 points in 12 minutes of playing time.

Saturday night was a different story as the teams from Washington battled on more even terms. Whitworth, led by smooth-working Ray Washburn's 26 points, defeated the Crusaders by a score of 68-64. Peppley led the Crusaders with 19, followed by Wood with 18.

Dick Kofford, Eastern Washington's fine forward, with his 30-point total pushed the second game into a thrilling overtime. However, one man can't do it all, and his team went down to defeat by one point. Two men fouling out near the end of the second half caused their defeat.

the LSP's. With 2 seconds to go Orville Swanson hit a shot making the final score: LSP's 57, SLA's 54.

Hull was high point man for the LSP's with 18 points. High for the SLA's was Bob Anderson with 21 and Orville Swanson with 20.

Steward Injury Proves Blow To NNC Team

The NNC Crusader basketball hopes took a sharp blow when veteran guard Wally Steward injured his knee in a game against BJC December 11.

With ten minutes gone in the first half, Steward was hurt in a scramble under the basket. Five minutes later he returned to action only to be injured again. This time, he had to be carried from the floor.

Since Wally's injury, the Crusaders have won only three out of nine games, and before his injury, they won five out of seven. Although other aspects have entered into the NNC defeats, Steward's absence seems to be of primary importance.

In the six games before the BJC game, Stew had scored 52 points for an 8.7 average, 3rd best on the team. Roger Lucas, sports editor of the Boise Statesman, stated that Steward was the fire and organization of the team, and we here at NNC are inclined to agree with him.

Wally is probably the one most disappointed about his injury. His main reason for returning to NNC this year was to play basketball and to finish his few remaining hours in education.

Because of his injury, Wally will be unable to play ball second semester.
